IMPRESSION

Typography, the art of, or surface printing. This method is entirely reverse to that of engraved printing; in that the parts to appear in print, are on the level of the plate, the space between being cut away, the examination of any cut or electrotype will give an excellent idea of the method. These lines being raised take the ink, and the force of pressure in printing will cause the electrotype to sink more or less into the surface of the paper and show a raised surface on the back of the stamp, examining the stamps of Great Britain will show this effect.

As a rule 60 or 100 of these electrotypes, made from the original plate, are soldered together in order to make the required number of designs required for printing a sheet of stamps.

One or more of these designs may become detached and thru carelessness be soldered in upside-down, thus causing an inverted stamp to appear in the

Broadview Boys Institute.

This admirable safety valve for for boyish energy held it's "Fall Fair" Sept. 28 - 29 and showed in full those methods for profitably occupying time, that might have been wasted in "mischief", which have made this Institute a blessing to so many parents as well as boys in the eastern half of this city.

Manual training is the one term which begins to describe the variety of attractions for keeping boys off the streets, that are to be found herein; from carpentering to cooking, pets of divers kinds, birds, beasts and garden plots, as well as the finer arts of modelling in clay, freehand drawing, etc., have all their teachers and students, and the results becoming so good that other citizens besides those directly interested are seeking to profit by the skilful hands and cunning brains of the young workers.

In the field covered by the Philatelist a large number of exhibits were shown, 14 collections of stamps, 16 of picture postcards, and some crests, photographs, coins, shells, etc.; Messrs. Geo. A. Lowe and W. A. Brown acted as Judges for the stamps, their awards being; 1st. Harry Ellis, 2nd Gordon Doolittle, 3rd. J. Perry Comvay, 4th. G. B. Wales. Our "Review Editor" Mr. Haydon judged the postcards, and found 1st. Fred H. Wehrley, 2nd. R. M. Bird, 3rd. Eric W. Haldenby, 4th. J. G. Ure and H. Patrick.

It seems to me that our Philatelic Association would do very well to encourage these exhibitions of stamp collections by co-operating with suitable prizes for neatness as well as for quality and quantity. This would bring our professional members some useful advertising, and our amatuers would increase the pleasures they already receive in this charming science,

VIEW CARDS.

In order to keep our readers informed regarding new issues of Pictorial Post Cards and other Novelties of interest to collectors we will, if Publishers or Manufacturers send us samples, make special mention of the same.

In a recent number we called attention to the Japanese postcard issued to commemorate the late war. This card is scarce and we find an Exchange offering 1/6 each for same.

In order to increase the interest in the department we are offering to insert the names and addresses of card collectors 12 times if subscription is sent in before Jan. 1st. 1907.
